

Trees for the Forest

Teacher Workshop

Thursday, April 4, 2019

5:00-7:00 pm

Location: Gateway Community Room

Instructor: Ted Hansen

2018 Artist-Wilderness-Connection artist

Ted will walk participants through the unit he developed for students to explore the details of the world around them and create a series of works to better understand the environment in which they live. They will learn about the Important role that nature journaling has played throughout history – both as an artistic endeavor as well as a scientific necessity. The primary format of the artwork created will be a nature sketch journal. They will also participate in a collaborative art making project where they create “trees for the forest”.

Sign up through the PIR network